IN CASE OF FIRE—
CALL H4-1010

Vol. VIII | Lakeside, San Diego County, California, Thursday, May 21, 1953 | No. 8

— SCHOOL BULLETINS —

ARE YOU ALL A GOIN' TO GO?

It will be "Buffet on the Bayou" when the P. T. A. holds its annual dinner dance in the Lakeside Cafetorium on the night of May 23rd, that's this coming Saturday, folks.

Dinner will be served from 7 to 9, and the menu sounds delicious — plenty of ham, sweet 'taters, and trimmings. There will be entertainment too and lots of dance music. As a matter of fact, our own Dixieland Jive Band will play.

If you haven't already done so, there is still time to make your reservations by calling Mrs. Ted Sherman, H4-6257. Reservations may be made for an entire party, if desired. However, if you can't make the decision until the last moment, we hear that there will be a limited number of tickets availble at the door.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Since nearly the first meeting that it was suggested, the Girl Scouts of the Fifth Grade have been working on their dolls. The Sixth Grade scouts joined us and now we have a fairly sized troop. The Girl Scout dolls are in the windows in the Lindo Park School. Scharel Phinney, News Reporter.

CLASS NEWS

This week's class story was written by Mrs. Kriel's First Graders. We are studying about spring flowers. We are drawing pretty flowers on the front of the get-well cards that we are making to send to Mrs. Kriel.

We all hope that her broken arm will mend soon. We miss her very much.

KICKBALL

Do you happen to know that Mrs. Whiteley's Second Grade girls play kickball almost as well as the second grade boys? Well, it's a fact. One day last week, the score was Girls, 6 runs; Boys, 3 runs. Of course, the boys are good too, because the very next day, the score was Boys, 10; Girls, 3.

Mrs. Whiteley tells us that the class is very grateful to Mr. Walter Phillips for marking the ball field. They say that it's fun to play on such a well marked field.

PETS

Miss Eriksson's kindergarten children really enjoyed seeing and learning about the three goslings that were brought to their class one day. We believe that they wrote a very interesting story about the experience and therefore are printing it below:

"We learned:

1. The goslings have webbed feet.
2. They are soft.
3. We named them chattergeese.

Mrs. Hanson's class enjoyed the visit paid them by Dennis Teague's pet skunk and pet rabbit and Mrs. Gideon's Second Grader's are glad that Roberta Lyons shared her kittens with the class.

Speaking of skunks, we detected several not so very tame ones visiting the Lakeside School grounds recently. Needless to say after each visit, their "memory" lingers on for quite a while.

ACCIDENTS

We regret that the following news wasn't printed sooner, but the items were received too late. We regret even more, however, that the accidents to Mrs. Kriel and Miss Grover ever occurred.

As you probably know by now, Mrs. Kriel fell during one of her class' physical Education periods, breaking a shoulder bone. She was, of course, taken to a doctor immediately. We understand that the doctor had even more difficulty persuading Mrs. Kriel that she couldn't return to teach that day, than he did with the medical treatment. Anyway, we hope that her recovery is a speedy one. Everyone missed her while she was away.

Miss Grover, the Lindo Park nurse, was much more fortunate when her automobile was struck by another car which failed to obey a stop sign. We are sorry that the car damages were extensive, but can't help being glad that Miss Grover suffered only a minor bruise on her face.

GROSSMONT BAND CONCERT

May 20 is the date of the Grossmont Band Concert. This is an annual event which is eagerly anticipated by the older students and always enjoyed by everyone.

ANOTHER GROSSMONT ASSEMBLY:

On May 26, there will be an assembly conducted by the Grossmont Student Council for the purpose of explaining student self-government and encouraging school spirit.

MEET MRS. IOSM

Mrs. Clara Isom, cafeteria assistant to Mrs. Duncan in the Lindo Park Cafeteria, was born, raised, educated and everything, right here in Lakeside. Furthermore, she expects to spend the rest of her days in Lakeside, she says. "cause I like it!"

Mr. and Mr. Javier Smith, Mrs. Isom's parents, live in their own home on Vine Street — the same house which they occupied when Mrs. Isom was born.

Mrs. Isom is an alumna of both Lakeside Grammar School and Grossmont High School. Now her own children attend school in this District. Both are in Lindo Park — Sylvia is in the Sixth Grade and Harvey is in the Second.

The Isoms have built more than one home — the first was on Julian Avenue which they sold, and then built their Lindo Lane home, in which they are now living.

Mr. Isom, who is a plumber at Edgemoor Farm, says that there will be one more house built and that will be the last.

Obviouly, the Isoms like our community and expect to do so always and always.

Appreciation of Support Expressed

Through the courtesy of this publication, I am happy to express sincere gratitude to my friends and acquaintances who contributed their efforts in support of my recent candidacy for school trustee and to all Lakeside folks who evidenced their confidence by voting in my favor.

The majority of voters have expressed, in a decisive manner, their desire for a change; this was not merely the wish of a small minority, and the decision is clear and convincing.

Several years ago I was requested ot contribute my time as a Trustee, in the interests of good education, and have willingly and happily served in that capacity for over six years: I am appreciative of the opportunity to meet and work with so many fine people throughout the County during that period. The inner satisfaction obtained through unselfish service has been ample compensation for the sacrifices necessarily involved.

Only within the last few months have discord and inharmony been apparent, under which conditions there can be no satisfaction in this service. It is my sincere hope that this discord may be overcome, and it is with an ultimate feeling of relief at my release from a time consuming endeavor that I will shortly terminate my service.

Kouns – Dunham Express Thanks

The vote at last Friday's election is evidence of the interest Lakeside citizens have in our schools. I am deeply appreciative to the community for every ballot cast, for this is the democratic way to solve our problems. I feel sure the people will continue to do everything possible to promote better understanding between the school and the community, and work for the best interests of the children.

To those who voted for me, and those who did not, I repeat the statements made before; my primary concern is for our children. I will work for the best possible educational program for them, bearing in mind that tax money must be spent thoughtfully.

Hart Dunham has asked that I include in this public announcement his, as well as my own, sincere thanks to the voters. We will work with the other three trustees and employees of the school district in an effort to conduct business of the district in the way you, the people, would have it done. We are humbly grateful for the many messages, for the hours of work on our behalf by friends; and for the confidence of the community as expressed at the polls.

Edna Kouns.

Check Forger Convicted

Daryl Salisbury learns that crime does not pay. He was sentenced in the Superior Court by Judge Mundo last week to three years probation, three months in the County Jail and was ordered to pay back in full all checks forged in the name of Grace M. Woolbright. Salisbury looks pale and thin and has had plenty of time to think it over.

Many local merchants as well as El Cajon and San Diego have been the victims of bad checks.

Over 800 voters turned out to back their choice for School Trustee Friday, May 15, with the result that Dunham was reelected and Edna Kouns with over 700 votes replaced Linley.

While this is a record breaking vote for a school election, it by no means represents Lakeside's full voting power. It as usually process that people interested will get out and vote, while others are conscipious by their obscence.

New Department Created by Cloyed Bill

The Assembly Government Organization Committee overrode objections of the attorney general's office and approved, 8 to 1, a bill by Assemblyman Ralph R. Cloyed of San Diego County, which would create a State Department of Water Resources.

Assistant Attorney General Thomas Martin said the measure would strip the attorney general of powers now vested in him by the constitution, and place them in the hands of a civil service attorney.

Harry Horton of El Centro, attorney for the Imperial Irrigation District, testified in favor of the bill. He explained that Governor Earl Warren has recommended a new state water department.

"This bill has been drafted to accomplish that purpose," he said.

Prior to approving AB 863 and sending it to the lower house ways and means committee, the committee rejected amendments offered by Martin by a 7 to 2 vote. Martin asserted the amendment would have removed his objections to the bill.

Assemblyman Marvin Sherwin of Alameda County, noting Brown's controversial stand in the Ivanhoe Irrigation District case, in which Brown upheld the legality of the reclamation bureau contract, said the client, and not the attorney, usually decides what position to take on a policy question.

"The first responsibility of the attorney general," Martin replied, "is to construe the law as he believes it exists, regardless of whether the legislature agrees with it."

Superior Judge Benjamin Jones Ivanhoe case the bureau's con- of Lake County ruled in the tracts are illegal because of the 160 acre limitation and because the district and the landowners do not get a water right under the terms of the contract. The case is being appealed.

Horton declared the Ivanhoe case "goes to the very point of why the supporters of the Cloyed bill want the water department to have its own staff of legal advisers."

High Speeds Bring High Death Toll

Rural traffic deaths took a discouraging leap upward last month, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

The April toll was 201, an increase of more than 30 per cent over April 1952 when 153 persons died in rural mishaps.

Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell said the sharp rise in rural fatalities makes the warning that speed kills more victims than ever. He linked high speeds directly to the growing death toll.

Caldwell pointed out that the striking force of a vehicle is quadrupled every time the speed is doubled. Thus, a car hitting a solid object with a force of 25,000 pounds at 30 miles per hour would hit with a force of 100,000 pounds at 60 mph.

The chances of being killed in an accident and the distance necessary to stop a car multiply correspondingly, he said.

Commissioner Caldwell said it was up to each individual motorist to determine his own "safe" speed, a speed at which he honestly feels he would have complete control over his car in case of emergency.

"Those who consisently drive at speeds greater than 60 and get away with it aren't being honest with themselves," he said. "They've just been lucky — so far."

Following the graduation of the eighth grade pupils, in June, it is anticipated there will be an influx of many new members in the Pilgrim Fellowship and the question of larger quarters will confront the leaders. It is hoped the new church will be ready, so the remodeling of Fuller Memorial Hall can begin. When this work is completed there will be available quarters large enough for years to come.

Mrs. Jean Kern will be the installing committee chairman. Everyone is welcome.

Bids will be called for opening July 1, for the construction of the Alpine Sanitary Facilities. Although a resurvey was necessary along Highway 80, due to the plans of the State Highway Dept. plans for widening Highway 80 to 100 feet, the additional expense will not cause the cost to run over the estimated $120,000.00. A number of corporations and individuals are evidencing interest in Alpine since this improvement was authorized by the voters. Among those interested is a national chain of Five and Ten Cents Stores and a nationwide Motel Operating Corp. Relative to the Five and Ten Store, it will be interesting to learn what these coins will still buy.

Members of Senior Girl Scout Troop No. 11 of El Cajon cruised around the San Diego Bay, May 16, aboard the LSU (Landing Ship Utility) 592, on an expedition sponsored by the Navy for Armed Forces Day.

Scouts Ruth Freeland, Virginia Austin, Judy Winward, Ann Hindes, Donnelle Rains, and Beverly Reynolds met at the El Cajon Scout House at 12:30, and were driven to the beach near the Sonar Training School by Ms. W. F. Hindes, Troop 11 leader, and Mrs. Robert Austin, District Two chairman. The members of the expedition hiked 3/4 of a mile down the beach to board the Landing Ship, which carried 76 passengers and 12 crew men.

It was a new and exciting experience for the scouts. The Lt. Commander in charge explained the function of the ship and its service in the Navy. Other special guests aboard were four Wave Officers, a Wave Photographer, two women Marine Officers and three Navy Nurses. The different ships in the harbor were explained to the Scouts as the cruise continued around the bay.

The ship docked at the Navy Amphibious Base. The Scouts entered Navy buses and were taken to the Enlisted Men's Club for cokes, and then to the swimming pool where the Underwater Demolition Team No. 3 demonstrated their tactics. After the demonstration, the Scouts returned to their ship for the voyage home. At 4:45 they landed at the beach, and were driven back to El Cajon.

Miss Barbara Ann Blanton, daughter of Major and Mrs. John Franklin Blanton, of Pepper Drive has been elected Princess by the El Cajon School Band and Orchestra Parents' Club, for the El Cajon Valley Fair. No "Magic" Against TB

Even in this age of "wonder drugs' no responsible person has laid claim to a cure-all for tuberculosis, still the No. 1 killer among infectious diseases. Even with the best of known drugs and the most up-to-date surgery, treatment of TB is a long, slow process. It can be cured and can be prevented, but there are no "magical" shortcuts.

Even since 1882 when Robert Koch identified the tubercle bacillus as the germ which causes tuberculosis, the search has gone forward for drugs to combat it. But it is only in the last ten years that drug treatment has proved practical. The discovery of streptomycin in 1953 introduced a new era in the fight against TB. It was the first drug to prove its value in treating this age-old disease.

Streptomycin was not, of course, the complete answer to tuberculosis. New families of TB germs developed which could resist the drug. It was found that it could be more effectively used in combination with another drug, PAS, or para-aminosalicylic acid, which seems to delay the development of germ resistance.

A newer drug, isoniazid or isonicotinic acid hydrazide, a synthetic chemical compound, is becoming increasingly mportant in TB treatment. It is used alone or in combination with streptomcyin and PAS, depending on varying conditions.

The search continues for better drugs and other methods of treatment for tuberculosis. Some people think the greatest hope for the conquest of the disease lies in research constantly going on for a better vaccine than BCG, the one most widely used today. Obviously prevention of TB is better than the best of treatment.

GOING AND COMING

SHELTON, Neb. — Mrs. Don Smith was understandably confused when her husband met her at the Denver airport. He had driven her to her plane in Grand Island, Neb., a few hours earlier. After putting his wife on the plane, Smith flew to Denver in a private plane when a friend offered him a ride. The commercial airline had to make two stops en route, while the private plane flew straight through.

GHS SPRING CONCERT

Grossmont has given us many fine entertainments over the years and the Spring Concert on Friday evening followed the consistet pattern of perfection. Due to the weather, perhaps, there was not as large an audience as might have been otherwise. Certainly the musical deserved a capacity house. The Glee Club girls were delightful in their pastel formals, grouped against one wall, looking for all the world like a spring-time bouquet.

The combined orchestra and band under the direction of Harold G. Lutz opened the program with the First Movement of Schubert's Unfinished Symphony. This was followed by orchestral numbers, a capella chorals. a spiritual, and combined voices of Red Robe Choir and Glee Clubs with soloists and orchestra singing the score of Show Boat and the Polka from Smetana's Bartered Bride. Mrs. Merle C. Donohue directed the vocal groups.

"Slum Towns Are Going"
Magazine Article Declares

"For the first time in American history, there now appears to be sound basis for hope that slums may disappear from U. S. cities," declares Edward B. Lockett, writing in the current (May) issue of Nation's Business.

His article, "Slum Towns Are Going," discusses the Build America Better program of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and tells of the progress Americans are making in rehabilitation. He cites Baltimore, Md., where one of the first mass rehabilitation assaults on blighted sections was launched, and whose success has sparked other cities to follow suit.

"More than 20 cities have organizations and have actually begun to make progress in this work. Real estate boards in 131 cities in 36 states are actively promoting development of more rehabilitation programs. Two of the biggest real estate and building organizations in the country — the National Association of Real Estate Boards and the National Association of Home Builders — have launched national drives to further slum betterment programs.

"Charles B. Shattuck of Los Angeles, president of the realty boards association, announced in February: 'We are asking that elimination of substandard housing be made the number one civic betterment action program of each of our 1,137 local realty boards. All-out efforts of five major committees of the association are now channeled into . . . the 'Build America Better' program."

Mr. Lockett explains, "What the nationwide slum rehabilitation drive does accomplish is to substitute action for righteous indignation. Thousands of outdoor mechanical toilets have been moved indoors. Rickety stairways, leaky roofs, and bad floors have been fixed. Walls and ceilings have been replastered. Fire hazards have been reduced.

"Gutter spouting, indoor sinks, and back yard drains have been installed. New windows have been cut. Basements have been waterproofed. Rats have been killed, their nesting places destroyed. Wooden back yard fences, which cut off light and air and helped make trash piles and garbage litter, have been torn down."

And the impetus for all the improvement programs hasn't come from social welfare agencies or from the government, he asserts, but from municipal leaders.

In the words of NAREB, the article states, "the restoration program is fast, practical, economical, and equitable — compared wtih demolition and rebuilding. Under it, private industry and civic authorites in a matter of months have restored to livability low rent housing which would take the government years to provide at public expense. It demonstrates what can be done where incentive exists and city officials have courage to move.

"The rehabilitation program doesn't cost landlords or owner-occupants much money, and the taxpayers' burden for administration is negligible. It provides employment for hundreds of workers, and adds to the livable housing resources of a population growing at the rate of 1,000,000 each year."

Mr. Lockett states that the most powerful tool in making the national rehabilitation program so successful is "intelligent city law enforcement."

"Municipal ordinances against substandard housing, or at least health, fire, safety, and sanitation regulations, have been on the books of most cities almost since they were founded. But many of these laws have been ignored. As recently as 1951 a realty boards association survey revealed that housing standards were not enforced in 58 per cent of American cities . . .

"In the last analysis American housing experts agree that the best system to save U. S. cities from slums and decay was recently defined tersely and simply by a distinguished visitor from Sweden. The visitor had finished a tour of American cities, and was being questioned on his impressions. An American city engineer asked the visitor what his own country did about slums.

"'What do we do about slums?' the visitor repeated as his eyebrows raised a little 'Why, it's simple. We don't let them happen.'"

Taxes On Taxes

In the welter of dramatic news which confronts newspaper readers and radio listeners these days, many an important development is obscured or overlooked.

That was true of one of President Eisenhower's recent messages to Congress in which he recommended establishment of a commission to study federal grants-in-aid to the states. The President said: "In many cases, especially within the past 20 years, the federal government has entered fields which, under our Constitution, are the primary responsibilities of state and local governments. This has tended to blur the responsibilities of local government. It has led to duplication and waste. It is time to relieve the people of the need to pay taxes on taxes."

That statement can profitably be read in connection with one made by Representative Ostertag of New York, who said: " . . . government cannot give anyone something for nothing. Government can only give to you what it has first taken from you, and it keeps its brokerage fee in the process."

In Times Of Change

Some time ago a retailing association, whose membership includes both chain and independent stores, appointed a committee to study what retailers can do to help in the transition from a semi-war economy to a peace economy, if and when world conditions improve sufficiently to make heavy reductions in military spending possible.

No one can doubt that retailing's role in such a transition would be an all-important one. Most of our spendable income passes across the counters of retail establishments of one kind or another. Retailing is one of our biggest employers. And retailing is the link between factory and farm and the American home.

It is equally certain that retailing is well-equipped to make major contributions to the national welfare and to economic stability in times of stress and change. There is nothing like our system of distribution elsewhere on this earth. In no other country are consumers, in great cities and little village alike, offered goods in such vast quantity, at prices which are held to the minimum by free competiiton.

Mass-distribution is the full partner of mass-production in keeping this country economically strong.

Who Is Oppressed?

A short time ago John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers appeared before the Senate Labor Committee and advocated total repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act. He said that nationalization of the coal mines and other evils will come to pass unless immediate appraisal is given to the "fast rising tide of unrest, discontent, uncertainty and fear arising out of this oppressive legislation."

Mr. Lewis is entitled to his position. But it will be difficult for most of us to see how or where labor has been oppressed under Taft-Hartley.

As an example, since that act became law, the coal mines have received upward wage adjustments, more liberal pension plans, and other important material benefits. They work much shorter hours than used to be the case, under ever-improving conditions, and they receive hourly-wage rates which are the highest in mass-industry. Very remarkable progress has been made in th field of mine safety. Coal miners in most other countries would regard conditions in the coal mines here as unbelievably good.

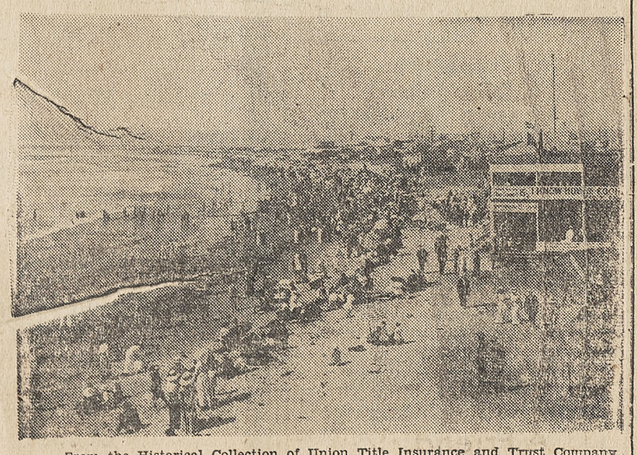
What Taft-Hartley has done has been to help prevent or control labor excesses which gravely threatened the nation's safety and security itself. It has also served to help protect the individual union member from dictation by labor bosses. No one claims it is a perfect law, but it has done infinitely more good than harm to all concerned — the employer, the employee, and the public at large.

You've Been Working For Government!

Whom did you work for during the first four months of this year?

You'll say that you worked for yourself, or for some business or other. But, in a very real sense, you worked for govenment! The nation's total 1953 tax bill will be as much as the wages, rents, interest and dividends received by all of us during the January 1 to April 22 period!

Read that again — and then decide whether economical government and eventual tax reduction are in your personal interest.



From the Historical Collection of Union Title Insurance and Trust Company

"Wonderland Park," the amusement center at Ocean Beach, was in full swing in 1913. Roller coaster, merry-go-round, a menagerie, and the lure of the beach combined to entice visitors. This photograph, from the historical collection of Union Title Insurance and Trust Company, shows a Sunday beach crowd in 1913. Black umbrellas, sweeping skirts, and high-button shoes were the order of the day—even for a Sunday by the sea.

Wonderland attracted crowds to the Ocean Beach area until the 1915 Panama-California Exposition opened in San Diego and proved to be a greater attraction. The Exposition purchased the menagerie for a bargain price, and at its close the animals were sold again to the San Diego Zoological Society, where they formed the nucleus of the now world-famous San Diego Zoo.

Ocean Beach survived the loss of Wonderland, and when bridges were completed to make the area more accessible, it grew rapidly into a fine community of homes and shopping centers.

CAPITOL AND COUNTY News Letter

by RALPH R. CLOYED
ASSEMBLYMAN

Six other members of the Ways and Means Committee and I have been appointed on a Subcommittee by the Committee Chairman to make a study of an Assembly Constitutional Amendment that would transfer administration of laws regarding alcholic beverages, except excise taxes, from the State Board of Equalization to an Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

Governor Warren has said he would not object to legislative addition of an appointive liquor policy board provided it does not handle the administrative side of liquor law enforcement.

He also stated that he does not think the Board of Equalization gives its liquor administrator enough authority to function throughout the State as such. Indicating that he thought the Governor should be held responsible for the way liquor laws are administered, good or bad.

The heavy-handed Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee today killed a "Secret Government" bill to open to the public all meetings of local governing agencies. The measure would have forced city councils, supervisors, and local legislative bodies to hold open meetings and to give advance notice. The bill was tabled on a voice vote.

The Assembly, meantime, passed a similar bill which includes State as well as local agencies.

State highway funds under a new gas tax bill proposed by a bi-partisan bloc of 21 Senators.

The 21 Senators who supported the new fund distribution formula, not yet voted on by the Senate, said they would insist on a 1½ cent gas tax boost "or nothing."

The Senators announced their position shortly after the Republican majority in the Assembly served notice that it wanted action on a State highway financing bill by voting 45 to 24 to withdraw from Committee a bill for a 1 cent gas tax increase.

The Governor's budget probably will be voted out by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee sometime this week.

The Committee has been going over the budget items since the January session in an attempt to cut enough money out of the budget to avoid being forced to vote tax increases.

One budget item that still rests with the Committee is $5,450,000 State support for Child Care Centers. The Centers are financed by fees from parents, according to their earnings and by legislative appropriation. About three-fifths of the fund is supplied by the State.

San Diego Child Care Centers receive nearly $500,000 yearly.

In past years the Child Care Centers issue has come before the Legislature in special bills, never before appearing as a regular budget item.

The Senate Finance Committee has already eliminated $5,450,000 for Child Care Centers from the proposed 1953-54 budget.

The Assembly refused to pass a bill today declaring it State policy that all Californians have a right to jobs regardless of race, creed, or color. It voted instead, 42 to 31, to send it to the Judiciary Committee. The bill would make it possible for anyone denied a job because of discrimination to go into court and collect damages. It would probably result in so many lawsuits it would keep the lawyers busy for years.

A bill banning compulsory membership in labor unions has been defeated by the Assembly Committee on Industrial Relations.

The vote was 8 to 2 for tabling the measure.

Approximately 500 persons with the gallery full heard proponents argue the measure.

The management representatives contended the labor monopoly and dictatorship with a closed shop would eventually lead to labor Fascism. The author said the bill was introduced at the request of labor union members who were afraid to present their own case. The opponents urged defeat of the bill because it would deal a critical blow to collective bargaining.

My bill establishing a State Department of Water has cleared the Governmental Organization Committee and has been sent to the Ways and Means Committee for hearing on May 21.

VIEW - POINT

By
Robert G. Kaplan, Ph.D.
Clinical Psychologist

All of us at sometime in our lives have had passing thoughts of self - destruction. Suicidal feelings occur when things pile up and there seems no way out. We are angry, frustrated, and nothing seems worthwhile. We feel we would be better off dead.

If one of the first laws of nature is self-preservation, how can an individual defy nature by destroying himself?

Many psychologists believe that the individual in committing suicide, is symbolically killing someone else. They believe that a person's hatred can be so great that he is willing to sacrifice his life for it. What does he hate? He hates all the people who have been cruel to him when he had no means of reacting to their cruelty — no way of defending himself.

An element of getting even with the world is also a part of suicidal thinking. This is similar to the child who, threatens to "hold hs breath 'til he gets blue in the face" if his with is not granted. The person with suicidal thoughts deep down often believes, "I'll kill myself and then you'll be sorry." The people, of course, who are the most sorry are the closest to him. These are the husbands, wives, lovers, and parents, who were not fulfilling the unspoken pleas of the upset person.

Q. Dr. Kaplan: My husband feels that the sole basis of our marital difficulties is our financial problems. Is this possible? I feel that something else is wrong.

A. It has been said that money is the root of all evil and yet in the face of extreme financial hardships, many couples still maintain a fine marriage. Financial worries are often used as a rationalization for more basic personality clashes which really are the basis of the marital difficulty.

Dr. Kaplan will write on any question or problem relating to child behavior or family relationships. Write to him in care of this paper. If the inquiry is of a personal nature enclose a stamped addressed envelope.

I was speaking a, few months ago, with a woman, who is a night switchboard operator at the doctor's exchange. She mentioned the frantic desperate and often unidentifiable calls she receives in the wee hours of the morning. Calls from people in despair, without a friend, without any one to reach out and say, "let me help you." People on the verge of self-destruction.

At these times, I am sure many lives could be saved, if only someone knew. Most of us have enough belief in our fellow man to want to help him save his life.

There are a lot of welfare groups. I often wonder how a group devoted to the prevention of suicide would work out. Might even be called Lifesavers Anonymous. People who would devote part of their time to saving lives by being that friend needed when all else is apparently lost.

Such a group could pepetuate itself in a fashion similar to Alcoholics Anonymous, in that those who were drawn from the depths of self-destruction might help others.

If you feel that this idea has any special merit, write me in care of this paper or my office and let me have your ideas.

Pullets Allowed To "Coast" Can Cheat Poultrymen

Present egg prices are 10 to 12 cents a dozen over last year. The national average price paid for eggs in March was the highest in 44 years — as far back as USDA has kept records. Poultry feed costs have dropped to a two-year low — nearly 10% below a year ago.

The outlook for pullets is good. There are nine million fewer hens on farms than there were this time last year and egg storage stocks are much lower. It is estimated that the number of March chicks for layer replacements was down about 1%.

FRONTIER HOOFBEATS . . .

By Mariam Conroy

Say now, a lot of you Frontiersmen were missed at the Round Up last Sunday. Dropping by the corrals in Cactus Park long bout eat'n time, I feered another "gold rush" had started the way them fellas wuz a dogg'n under that thar building like gophers hunt'n termites — an a singin to the music of hammers, saws and the sqeak of crow-bars. Anyhow Podners drop by fur the next Round Up with yore work'n irons, (tools that is) on Thursday eve'n, May 21, an be prepared (with big appetitte) cause there may be a stampede (of workers) see ya then!

Accord'n to reports Frontiersmen Art Fiese has found that somp'n "extra special" he wuz a lookin fur, in a hoss, fur sure enough there stands a chesnut Arabian parade horse in the ole corral an Art tells me he is two hands full (the horse) but it's a beauty, an will be another blue ribbon for Frontier Riders.

Don't furgit those Thursdays off Gals — come a ridin down the trails, would like to have more of you join us for this pleasant get-together, meet about 9:30 at Frontier Ring.

Understand our Juniors are busy stacking up points to be winners in the "big show" this fall. An the drill team — any new maneuvers I've missed o' late?

I'm not so sure but they should be called "The Busy Beavers" stead o' the Frontier Juniors, fur they are work'n like em, for their trail pal Peggy Kleveno to be Community Fair Queen and with these enthusiastic horsemen rid'n long side of her — just can't help but win.

Oh that reminds me — next Saturday and Sunday the big show at Escondido — Call'n all Frontier Juniors to be there and take your share of trophies n' ribbons — Jackie Jarvis "Missy" will be there all dressed up with new shoes I hear.

It's good to hear our Jr. Frontier gal Audrey Schill is improving each day and it won't be long now before she can leave the hospital and can be "at home" to her trail pals. Best Wishes Audrey from all of us.

Something special must be comin up for "Fun nite" cause it's all in the "Dark" as yet, anyhow call your President Ana Meyers, H4-1376 fur more details to when, where etc.

Wal Podners, I'm a goin to hit the coast trail this morn'n, want to see what them northerners are a doin along the trails — Adios — see ya when I git back.

Wot Goes On . . .

By Millie

Suppose a lot of you folks are planning to attend PTA "Buffet on the Bayou" next Saturday evening, and we can assure you there will be plenty of action at that shindig. We do know also that there will be good food served if the past two affairs are any criterion. So make it a date for Saturday night and spend the evening with your friends and neighbors.

Also keep Saturday, May 30th open and attend the Double Header baseball game over at Lindo Park baseball field when the Little League will be off to a start on their first big game of the season. The managers of the four teams, Kiwanis, Optimists, C. of C. and Vets have been working hard with their respective teams and everyone of them are out to win top honors, so let's back them up 100%.

Another gala event coming up is the Woman's Club May Breakfast which takes place May 28th. All of you girls are invited to attend and the brunch and program which are planned. Just phone Hazel Zeglis. H4-6005 and make your reservations. Plates are $1.25 each.

The Grossmont Hospital Auxiliary members are having some mighty fancy teas and luncheons these days to help raise funds for a good cause. The affair held this last Tuesday at the Rathmore Estate in El Cajon was one long to be remembered, and well attended by many Lakesiders. Next month Lakeside will play host and a tour of interesting homes is being arranged. Watch the Star for further details.

Jean Smiley really started something when she came back from a visit to her home in Sileom Springs, Ark., where she had attended one of a series of vanishing teas to raise funds. So Jean brought the idea to Lakeside and if you have been to one or more of these delightful affairs, you will want to keep going. I can't think of any finer way to get around to visit your friends homes and also meet many nice people. If you're invited please don't turn the invitation down, the 25c you donate will help to redecorate the Community Church social hall.

Some of the members of the Riverview Circle have been mighty busy over there in the church painting and fixin the kitchen and with the blue on the inside of the cupboards and gay yellow walls, and oh yes brand new linoleum for the floor — well from one who has worked many a day in that kitchen, this vast improvement should convince the ladies of the church to get busy and cook right now. Congratulations girls and a great big pat on the back for everyone of you who are doing such a wonderful job. Next we'll see that social hall begin to blossom forth with new paint and drapes and all because someone had the bright idea and started something.

We have been told that sometime this week and it may have already happened by the time this paper is read, that the new post office building is ready to be built. We know this will be good news for all those who are working in the old building with its crowded quarters, and I for one will be watching with interest as the walls of the new building go up.

Another new home is now being started up in Eucalyptus Hills, the owners are Mr. and Mrs. Drallmeier. Their plans call for a two bedroom, and a den home which we know will be a fine addition to this fast growing section. In fact there are numerous new places springing up here and there around Lakeside. One of the fastest growing new sections are out around Lindo Heights and surrounding area. Little wonder the town of Lakeside needs a larger post office. Prospective new home builders for that area are Freddie Prindle, Dane Carender, Willard Johnson and Bob Blakely and Mrs. Alice Lindsay whom we understand plans to get started very soon on her new home on Lindo Way. We'll be glad to welcome you all as our good neighbors.

Fishing Good In High Sierra Area

Even though disagreeable weather hit much of the Inyo-Mono area earlier this week, trout fishing held up well, the outing Bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California reported today. The weather improved later in the week.

In spite of winds and cold weather many anglers were out to try their luck. Best results were reported at the following spots: Bridgeport Reservoir, Lane-Roosevelt, Poore, Green, Lindy, Silver, Grant, Gull and June Lakes; Mill Creek, the Owens River at Benton Crossing an dat Chalk Bluff, Five Bridges and Laws Bridge.

The largest large-tooth aspen in the United States is located near Sumner, Mich., and is 69 feet tall.

Q—Is there any way to keep a bathroom mirror from fogging?

A—No practical way. Fogging is caused by the high concentration of moisture in the air. Special non-fogging mirrors are made with concealed heating elements which keep the glass at a high enough temperature so that moisture doesn't collect.

Q—I have been told that a garage floor should slope slightly toward the door. Is that correct?

A—Yes, it's an excellent idea. Gasoline vapor is heavier than air and it can collect in explosive quantities in hollows in a supposedly level floor. But if the floor slopes, the vapor will flow out under the door.

Q—I am planning to put a new asphalt roof on my house. Would it be wise to select green shingles to match the window shutters?

A—If you would like the complete color scheme which that would give you, go right ahead. Color is largely a matter of personal preference, and any homeowner should feel free to use the colors that appeal to him. In your particular case, you might select an asphalt shingle color from the large variety available and then re-paint the shutters if desired. The roof color is chosen first because it is a lasting color. Colors of other parts of the house may need to be painted many times during the life of a roof.

Q—Must a paint brush be cleaned thoroughly if it is going to be used again within two or three days?

A—No, thorough cleaning isn't necessary. Clean out some of the paint, and then wrap the bristle end of the brush in waxed paper. Seal the edges of the paper with tape to keep out the air.

Q—Is it necessary to paint copper door and window screens?

A—Copper won't rust, but it will corrode and protection is needed for that reason. Use spar varnish or screen enamel. If the varnish or enamel is thinned heavily, it won't be so likely to accumulate in the mesh.

DOG BITES MAN

DETROIT — Karl S. Waldron filed a red-hot suit in circuit court charging he was bitten by a dog — a hot dog — at a Detroit Tigers baseball game. He alleged that the hot dog contained a "sharp, unyielding object" that cut his throat and harmed his voice. He named the baseball club, the catering service and the sausage company as defendants.

Daniel Boone learned to understand and love the woods
He also learned to make Indian goods
Daniel Boone always wanted to explore new lands
He led the first white party to Kentucky in bands.
Again he led a white party to Kentucky to settle
There they learned to make good mettle
So let us all salute Daniel Boone
And hope we have another real soon.

Recently we saw a show called "Kentucky Pioneers." The Taylors were going to the far west to find their home. Some of the way they had to walk up high hills. When they were walking through the woods they saw a kettle, a woman's shoe and a baby's bonnet. After crossing the blue grass of Kentucky they came to the fort. They left the fort after awhile and went to build their own cabin. Before they went to bed that night their father said "There will be a 'Freedom of Peace' in this valley."

Chase 6th Grader Form Research Groups

The boys and girls of the sixth grade at Chase Avenue School were faced with a serious problem. There were so many interesting subjects to study about, and there was too little time left in which they could do all their "learning." With grown-up efficiency they organized groups to study intensively the various areas of interest. With grown-up efficiency, they bestowed upon themselves the title "Research Groups."

The fact that children of today are interested in the world of today is evidenced by their choice of study areas; conservation of natural and human resources, aviation, atomic energy, narcotics problems, and newspapers, radio, and television.

A lack of study materials has not prevented the children from pursuing their interests. They have written letters to all parts of the country requesting material for their use. When the groups complete their work, they expect to share their information with others in the class.

"Safety For School Age Children" Is Summer Slogan

A continued summer safety program for school age children will be conducted throughout vacation time by the Safety For School Age Children Committee of the San Diego County Traffic Safety Council.

Headed up by parents and teachers and traffic safety workers, this committee will work toward maintaining safety reminders to parents and children during the summer play months.

The Safety for School Age Children Committee issued a warning to parents to keep a watchful eye on their children during the summer inasmuch as school officials will not have children in hand to aid in avoiding all types of accidents.

Approach of summer brings warnings from the police departments who point out that the "seemingly safe residential streets are very hazardous for small children."

Heading up plans for the summer safety campaign are Mrs. Earl D. Newport, Chairman of the Publicity Committee for the school committee; John Voss, principal of Snyder Continuation School; Dick Oliver, principal of Florence School and DeGraff Stanley, head of the school system's television division.

Kraft Says "No" To Proposed Bill

Senator Fred H. Kraft of San Diego said today one of the most explosive issues to come out of this session of the State Legislature is the proposal to divorce liquor control from the State Board of Equalization.

Developments along this line have come thick and fast in the last few days, overshadowing in public interest almost every other consideration, including bitter controversy over highway legislation.

There is a wide divergence of opinion as to the remedy for the universally admitted evils in the present liquor regulatory machinery. But almost every members of the Legislature agrees with at least one conclusion voiced last week by Governor Earl Warren, namely, that there ought to be created an entirely separate department of liquor control.

The governor has proposed that such a department be headed by a director appointed by the chief executive. But in this he has some formidable opposition.

Many members, including Senator Kraft, favor the separate department idea, but would set up a commission, to be chosen by the people, to administer liquor laws.

Said Senator Kraft:

"I don't quite agree with the governor that liquor control can be administered by a depiartment set up for that purpose under a director as other functions of government are handled. There are too many ramifications, too many districts and individuals affected by sudden change in politics which result, for instance, with a change in the chief executive.

"Many problems arise in liquor law enforcement which necessitate rule making and enforcement policy changes which can be handled only by a policy-making body.

"Furthermore, I favor elective officers wherever possible.

"If we could be assured of having honest, high type governors, Warren's proposal from a political science standpoint, might be best."

Marck Motors Offers New Service

There's a new wrinkle to retailing in El Cajon these days, that enables both local and out-of-town customers to maintain a single charge account at thousands of automotive stores and other retail stores from coast to coast as well as at Marck Motors, 332 East Main street, the first to offer the universal credit service in El Cajon.

Known as the National Credit Card plan, this new system of buying without cash was begun a scant two years ago and is now used by 200,000 families in every state in the union and in Canada as well. In effect, the National Credit Card system enables individuals or families to charge their purchases both while travelling and at home.

In all, there are more than 130 different kinds of articles and services which can be purchased under the new system. For example, a travelling salesman can have his hotel or motel accommodations, gasoline and oil, and restaurant bills charged to National Credit Card, while his wife may visit the beauty shop, buy a new dress and send gifts to the folks back home, charging everything under the same plan.

The credit system works like an ordinary department store charge account in that customers receive a single itemized bill once a month. No matter how many articles were brought or where they were purchased, only one invoice is sent, accompanied by the sales voucher signed at the time of the transaction. The customer pays only the exact cash price.

There are no extra fees of any kind added, and cardholders pay only a nominal registration fee when applying for a credit card.

One reason for the widespread popularity of the new system is that it offers cardholders the satisfaction and peace of mind of knowing they will not run out of cash, either at home or on the road since many business members will cash personal checks up to $100.

National Credit Card invoices are regarded as evidence of expenses by the government at income tax time ,to help substantiate business deductions. They also simplify the task of filling out income tax returns.

Merchants who honor National Credit Cards receive immediate payment from NCCI, and need not wait until individual customers pay National Credit Card.

Business members therefore, can acount on several large remittance checks a month, rather than having to wait the customary 30 day period or longer for bills to be paid by customers.

In some cities, dealers found that by eliminating all outstanding credit debts, they had more working capital, eliminating the need for bank financing of their inventories.

With its introduction here, local families and merchants alike benefit. The convenience of credit purchasing can be enjoyed, while merchants benefit from out-of-town charge customers as well as their own local customers. In effect, it is a national organization buying locally from 200,000 purchasers.

Local Civic Leader Appeals For Budget Action By Eisenhower

Harold C. McClellan, president Old Colony Paint and Chemical Company, and vice-president of the National Association of Manufacturers ,today called on the Eisenhower Administration for further drastic cuts of Federal spending, so the budget can be balancedand taxes can be reduced by July 1.

"In the last few days statements from Washington are expressing defeatist attitude concerning possibility of budget cuts," McClellan said.

"Nobody wants to weaken or impair the defense of the Nation, but we cannot have a strong defense with a weak and debt ridden economy.

"To balance the budget after twenty years of expensive and unbridled spending is admittedly a tough job, but the American people expressed their confidence in Eisenhower last November and I am sure he will not let them down.

"Businessmen of America want to achieve the goal of a balanced budget and subsequent tax cuts for all the people of the country," McClellan said.

"Therefore, I have telegraphed Governor Earl Warren, Mayor Fletcher Bowron and President Roy M. Hagen of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce that the time has come for the state and community to reject all Federal handouts, so we can balance the budget and put the Nation on a sound financial basis."

McClellan said that the attitude of the American business man was well summed up in a resolution adopted unanimously at the May 13th meeting of the Board of Directors of the National Association of Manufacturers, which called for an end to government deficit financing and for cutting of Federal expenditure to the end that the budget be balanced and taxes reduced for both individuals and corporations.

"Minimum tax relief which is now needed by the American people includes the necessity for elimination of the excess profits tax and for proper reduction of personal income taxes by the end of June. After providing for these possible tax cuts the government revenue for the fiscal year of 1954 would amount to $66.1 billion.

"This means that Federal spending must be reduced $12.5 billion, cutting it from the Truman 'lame duck' budget of $78.6 billion, down to $66.1 billion."

McClellan continued: "The cuts proposed recently by President Eisenhower are a step in the right direction but do not go far enough in providing tax relief for the citizens of the Nation or in providing the funds essential to the expansion of industrial production and the formation of needed venture capital.

"According to the NAM's proposal, our revenues in the next fiscal year would be $66.1 billion after minimum tax relief and we should not spend a penny more."

State Reaps Tax Bonanza From 20 Years Of Repeal

Twenty years of Repeal have been profitable to California. Since the state authorized legal sale of liquor almost two decades ago ,taxes and duties on distilled spirits have amounted to more than $321.214,000.

This amount is exclusive of the federal excise tax of $10.50 per gallon, explains Cecil B. Harlow, Western division manager for Schenley Distributors, Inc.

California collected $26,634,941 in taxes on legal liquor in the latest calendar year, says Harlow, and this year the state's 16,503 retail liquor outlets will contribute $192,628,000 to California's economy through the annual payroll of their 60,378 employees.

Harlow estimates the state's liquor dealers will spend an additional $82,515,000 in California this year for goods and services.

California voted to repeal the 18th Amendment on July 24, 1933, becoming the 13th state to do so. In December of the same year, after ratification by the necessary 36 states, the 21st Amendment became effective and ushered in Repeal. In January of 1934 legal liquor was again available in California.

Starkey Becomes Chairman For La Jolla Playhouse

Harold H. Starkey, prominent San Diego businessman and resident of Chula Vista and Del Mar, has assumed the chairmanship of the San Diego County Committee for La Jolla Playhouse with Mrs. Edward Longstreth, La Jolla, acting as executive vice-chairman.

The new committee becomes the sponsor of San Diego County's famous summer theatre. The Kiwanis Club of La Jolla, which has sponsored the professional theatre project since its inception seven years ago relinquished its sponsorship this spring in behalf of a group more widely representative of the entire area.

The committee supervises the various promotional activities undertaken for the Playhouse throughout the county. To date this year it has concentrated on the raising of the La Jolla Playhouse Continuance Fund and on the sale of season tickets.

According to Harper Olmstead, chairman of the finance committee, almost three quarters of the $10,000.00 goal for the fund has been raised.

"We are still seeking contributions," he added.

Season ticket sales, which began May 1st, are running considerably ahead of any previous season, Mrs. Longstreth stated.

"We have already been told by John Swope, executive producer, that one of the early productions this summer will be the recent New York comedy hit, "Jane," with Edna Best as star and director," Mrs. Longstreth said.

"This is the earliest we've ever been told anything specific about the summer's plans and this fact together with the wonderful impression Mr. Swope has been creating seems to have stimulated a greater advanced interest in the Playhouse than ever before.

"It, therefore, behooves anybody who wishes to enjoy these wonderful plays to secure his tickets now while he has a chance of getting the seats he wants for the performance he wishes," Mrs. Longstreth concluded.

Membership of the San Diego County Committee for La Jolla Playhouse is as follows: San Diego; Mr. Armistead Carter, Mr. John A. Kennedy, Mrs. R. Hastings Garland, Mr. Paul Stevenson and Mr Fred H. Rohr; Coronado, Brig. Gen. Gilder D. Jackson, U. S. M. C. ret.; Vista, Mr. Jack Powell; Carlsbad and Oceanside, Major Gen. W. A. Worton, U. S. M. C. ret.; Escondido, Mr. Fred W. Spears; El Cajon, Lt. Yellowtail Catches On Upswing

After a week of slow fishing at the Coronado Islands, due to dirty water as the aftermath of the storm, conditions changed suddenly and for the better last Saturday and it appeared that another extended period of good rod and reel sport was in store.

In spite of last week's drop-off in catches, deep sea anglers kept the pot boiling in the San Diego Yellowtail Derby with their share of mossbacks and some of the most unusual catches made in years also were brought in to the Municipal Sportfishing Pier. In the latter class was the take of six broomtail groupers, seldom caught along the coast north of Galapagos, made by the Sirius at La Jolla. Harry Dvorak, of La Mesa, bagged two, the larger 55 pounds.

Wally Seifert, of Puente, bagged an 111½ pound black sea bass and Charles Curtis, of San Diego, a 52 pound white sea bass. Largest yellow of the week was a 37 pound 4 ouncer caught by Lyman R. Smith, of San Diego, and runner-up a 36-5 caught by D. W. Masters, of Coronado.

YOU SERVE BETTER MEALS

WHEN YOU HAVE COMPLETE HOME REFRIGERATION

LEARN WHAT MILLIONS NOW KNOW — YOU LIVE BETTER, EAT BETTER, SERVE BETTER, HEALTHIER MEALS FOR LESS MONEY WHEN YOU HAVE THE CONVENIENCE OF COMPLETE REFRIGERATION IN YOUR HOME — A MODERN REFRIGERATOR PLUS A MODERN HOME FREEZER.

The moment "quick freezing" became practical for food preservation — refrigeration was revolutionized in the food industry — and in your home. The first major change came in the food industry. Now, it could deliver to your home fresh foods under refrigeration — or fresh foods, quick-frozen.

The second major change came in your home when the refrigeration industry developed a quick-freeze unit for home use.

WHAT THIS MEANT TO YOU, THE AMERICAN HOUSEWIFE

For you, the American housewife, these changes meant these two things: First, your refrigerator was no longer adequate unless it was constructed to "keep" both fresh and frozen foods for day to day use.

And, second, you could now obtain your own fresh foods — quick-freeze them and store them in your own home freezer to use as you chose.

HOW THE "QUICK-FREEZING PROCESS" CAN BETTER YOUR LIFE

Obviously, for you and your family to truly enjoy all the wonderful frozen foods available to you, you need a refrigerator with both fresh and frozen food compartments. If you present refrigerator is 10 years old, it's outmoded because it doesn't have either a freezer compartment — nor the latest developments for keeping fresh foods.

If, however, your have a modern refrigerator, your next step for complete home refrigeration is a new home freezer — so you can freeze and store your own fresh foods . . . or you can buy, at quantity prices, frozen foods to store for later use.

GOOD FOOD IS VITAL — AND AMERICA OFFERS YOU SO MUCH

Yes, no place else in the world but here are you offered such an abundance of good food. And part and parcel of getting it from the farm to your table is proper refrigeration — with the last step being complete and proper refrigeration in your own home.

Today, we urge you . . . if your refrigerator won't keep both fresh and frozen foods properly . . . buy a modern one at your dealer's.

Or — if you already have a modern refrigerator — take the final step to complete home refrigeration — get a home freezer.

Both units — in many makes, sizes and models are available on easy terms. Together, they stand for complete home refrigeration — and they bring to your home and family better eating, healthier eating, better entertaining, greater convenience—all at a great saving.
